

On start of the application the camera view will show what is around you

For these Diagrams the Red Circles symbolize user tap interaction

Users will be given the option to choose to create a new notebook or view recent notebooks

If the notebook is New give the user an option to choose notebook cover color

Optional Functionality: (to discuss 9/27)

Give the user ability to choose text / page color?

If the notebook is newly created or the user is viewing the same notebook the final view is the same – An AR notebook positioned on a horizontal space near the user.

From here the user has interaction options (insert).

The user can swipe to turn pages.

Give the user the ability to choose from saved notebooks
