

On start of the application the last notebook you viewed will show
If this is the first time starting the application a new notebook cover will show

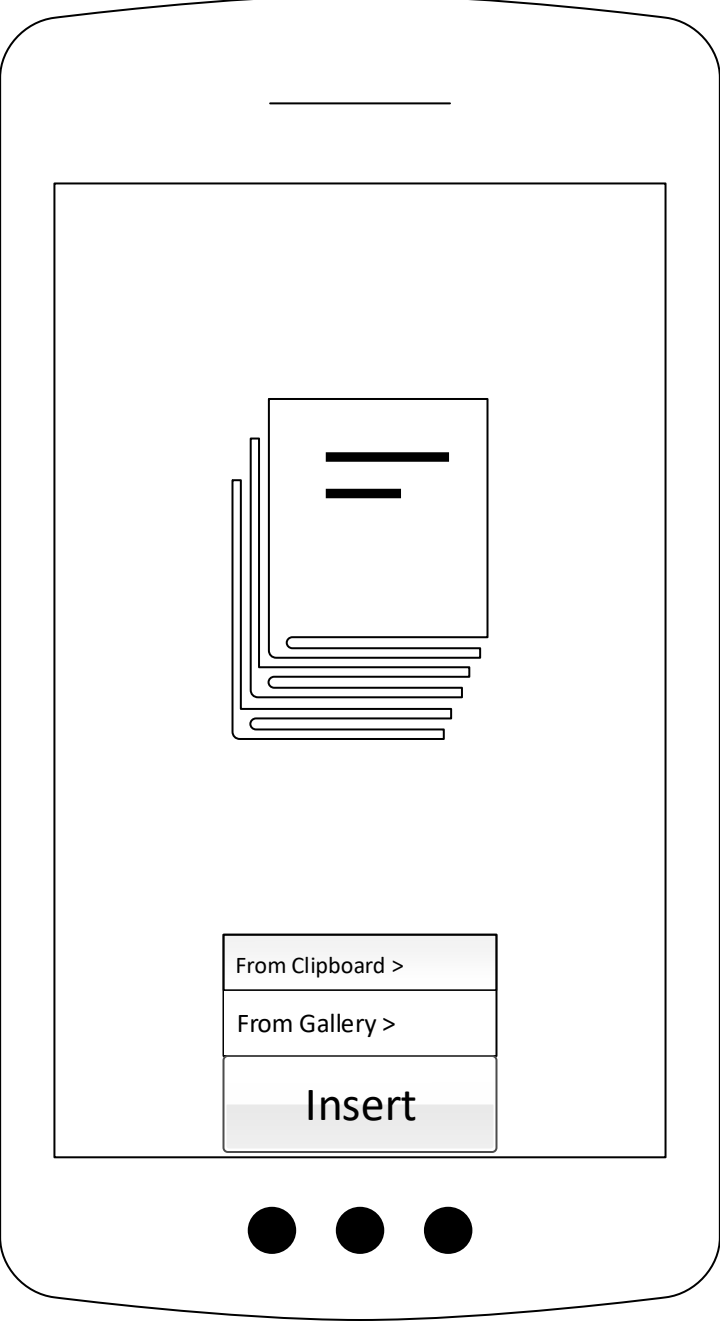

The User will be given the option to create a new notebook (in the case they are in the most recent notebook)

The user will be given the option to insert something in the notebook

The user should be able to pick the cover color of the notebook
- May allow user to also choose the text color

Insertion options menu
Inserted content will be placed at a default location no user interaction